1. INTRODUCTION

Background

1.1 Section 12 of the Human Trafficking and Exploitation (Criminal Justice and Support for Victims) Act (Northern Ireland) 2015 places a requirement on the Department of Justice (DOJ) to produce an annual strategy on offences under section 1 and 2 of the Act (slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking).

1.2 The draft strategy attached at Annex A has been developed by the DOJ after extensive engagement with both civil society partners on the DOJ’s Human Trafficking Engagement Group and statutory partners on the Organised Crime Task Force’s (OCTF) Immigration and Human Trafficking Subgroup.

1.4 DOJ is in the process of completing a progress report against the 2015/16 strategy and this will also be published on the justice-ni.gov.uk website in due course.

Purpose of strategy

1.5 In line with section 12 of the Act, the purpose of the draft strategy is to raise awareness of human trafficking and slavery-like offences in Northern Ireland and to contribute to a reduction in the number of such offences.

1.6 Section 12 of the Act also sets out that the strategy must, in particular, cover:

- the arrangements for co-operation between relevant organisations; provision as to the training and equipment for investigators, prosecutors and those dealing with victims; and provisions aimed at raising awareness of the rights and entitlements of victims.

1.7 We would particularly invite views on whether the draft strategy at Annex A meets the requirements of section 12 of the Act.

Strategic aim and priorities
1.8 The overarching strategic aim is consistent with the aim of the 2015-16 strategy:

“Equipping Northern Ireland to eradicate human trafficking and modern slavery whilst protecting and supporting victims.”

1.9 This aim is underpinned by four strategic priorities:

- Pursue (effective detection, disruption, investigation and prosecution of offenders);
- Protect and support (improved identification and the provision of effective protection and support);
- Prevent (prevent and reduce risk of human trafficking and modern slavery offences in Northern Ireland); and
- Partnership (effective, collaborative and joined-up partnership response).

1.10 These priorities are in turn supported by a number of key objectives and SMART actions which the DOJ and its partners have committed to delivering during 2016/17.

1.11 We invite comments on the appropriateness of the proposed strategic aim and priorities as well as on the proposed objectives and actions that have been identified.
Consultation

1.12 Whilst we have already engaged with a wide range of key partners and stakeholders we want to ensure that other individuals and organisations are afforded an opportunity to comment on the draft in order to inform the final strategy. In particular we are keen to consult with other bodies, agencies or organisations whose functions or activities seek to tackle human trafficking or modern slavery offences or support the victims of these offences. Interested parties are invited to consider the draft strategy at Annex A and to complete and return the response questionnaire at Annex B by 17:00 Friday 9 September 2016.

Next steps

1.13 Following consultation the DOJ will evaluate the responses received and (as necessary) produce a revised strategy to be shared with the Justice Committee. We hope that we will be in a position to publish the final strategy by the end of September 2016.

1.14 In order not to lose momentum, however, we intend to continue to work with our delivery partners towards implementation of the strategy whilst still in draft form, throughout the duration of the consultation period.
2. IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

Equality Impact

2.1 As a public authority under Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 the Department of Justice is required to have due regard to the need to promote equality of opportunity. This legislation also requires public authorities to identify whether a policy has a differential impact upon relevant groups; the nature and extent of that impact; and whether such an impact is justified. These obligations are designed to ensure that equality and good relations considerations are made central to government policy development.

2.2 We believe that the draft strategy would be beneficial and would have no adverse effect in Section 75 terms. It would reinforce Northern Ireland’s defences against human trafficking and modern slavery offences. It will help to facilitate effective investigations and prosecutions as well as helping to ensure that victims are identified, protected and supported.

2.3 We do not therefore consider that an Equality Impact Assessment (EQIA) is required. Our screening form is available on the DOJ website.

2.4 Comments on our screening assessment and equality conclusions are welcome.

Financial and public sector impact

2.5 We do not anticipate that any of the proposed actions in the draft strategy would have a significant cost impact. The draft strategy has been developed to coordinate efforts to make the best possible use of available resources. Any costs that may arise are likely to absorbed by the Department of Justice and its statutory partners.
3. SUMMARY OF TARGETED CONSULTEES

1. MINISTERIAL FOREWORD

[to be inserted once strategy is finalised]
2. INTRODUCTION

This strategy has been developed by the Department of Justice (DOJ) in collaboration with civil society and statutory partners through the Organised Crime Task Force (OCTF) and its subgroups.

Section 12 of the Human Trafficking and Exploitation (Criminal Justice and Support for Victims) Act (Northern Ireland) 2015 ("the 2015 Act") places a requirement on the Department of Justice (DOJ) to produce an annual strategy on offences under section 1 and 2 of the Act (slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking). The purpose of the strategy is to raise awareness of human trafficking and modern slavery offences and to contribute to a reduction in the number of such offences. In doing so it also seeks to improve victim identification and recovery and to ensure that appropriate protection and support measures are in place for victims to access.

Section 12 of the 2015 Act says that the strategy must also:

- set out the arrangements for co-operation between relevant organisations (both statutory and non-statutory);
- include provision as to training and equipment for investigators, prosecutors and those dealing with victims; and
- include provisions aimed at raising awareness of the rights and entitlements of victims.

The development of the strategy has been informed by:

- consultation with relevant organisations that are actively involved in tackling human trafficking and modern slavery in Northern Ireland;
- statutory measures and requirements under the 2015 Act and the Modern Slavery Act 2015;
- ongoing engagement on national priorities and common issues with other United Kingdom jurisdictions and with the Irish Government;
- the EU Strategy towards the Eradication of Trafficking in Human Beings 2012-2016; and
- information available through the National Referral Mechanism and the National Crime Agency’s strategic assessments of the nature and scale of human trafficking in the United Kingdom\(^1\).

The overarching strategic aim is: “Equipping Northern Ireland to eradicate human trafficking and modern slavery whilst protecting and supporting victims”.

\(^1\) http://www.nationalcrimeagency.gov.uk/
The strategy is structured around four Strategic Priorities which are:

1. Pursue (Effective detection, disruption, investigation and prosecution of offenders);
2. Protect and Support (Improved identification of victims and the provision of effective protection and support);
3. Prevent (Prevent and reduce the risk of modern slavery offences in Northern Ireland); and
4. Partnership (Effective, collaborative and joined-up partnership response).

These priorities are underpinned by strategic objectives and SMART actions which set out the work that, collectively, the DOJ and its partners are committed to delivering during 2016/17.

3. BACKGROUND

Scale of modern slavery in Northern Ireland

Human trafficking and slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour (“modern slavery offences”) are largely hidden crimes, which often make it difficult to establish an accurate assessment of the nature and extent of the problem in Northern Ireland. The National Referral Mechanism (NRM) currently helps to inform much of our understanding of the nature and scale of human trafficking and modern slavery across the United Kingdom. However it is widely accepted that the NRM only reveals part of the picture particularly since, in the case of adults, the individual must consent to a referral being made.

The National Crime Agency (NCA) also publishes an annual strategic assessment of modern slavery, which is informed by additional data sources, other than the NRM. In addition, new legislation in each of the United Kingdom jurisdictions has made provision for a new statutory duty on specified public authorities to report suspected cases of human trafficking and modern slavery. This duty is intended to provide greater insight into the nature and scale of trafficking and modern slavery and will allow information to captured anonymously, even where an individual does not consent to a referral into the NRM. In Northern Ireland this duty to report suspected cases is expected to come into effect before the end of 2016.

During 2015/16 the PSNI Human Trafficking Unit (HTU) conducted 252 screening assessments in respect of suspected cases of human trafficking or modern slavery. A total of 59 potential victims of human trafficking were referred to the NRM from Northern Ireland. This is an increase when compared to the 46 potential victims recorded for the financial year 2014/2015.

PSNI operational response
During 2015/16 financial year the HTU made 20 arrests. 12 of those arrests were for Human trafficking offences. The remaining eight arrests included offences of brothel keeping, firearms possession and drugs possession which were detected during human trafficking investigations.

A total of 41 searches were conducted during the 2015/16 financial year by the HTU. Six persons have been charged with a variety of offences, two of which were for human trafficking offences. Eight persons were reported to the Public Prosecution Service for Northern Ireland (PPS) for human trafficking-related offences.

Victimology
The 59 potential victims referred into the NRM included 35 males and 24 females. 11 of the individuals referred were children. 34 of the individuals were believed to be victims of forced and compulsory labour exploitation. The remaining 25 cases involved a variety of exploitation types, including sexual exploitation and ‘securing services’ exploitation.

Graph A shows the breakdown of male and female referrals during 2015/16.
Graph B shows numbers and the country of origin of potential victims who were referred to the NRM from Northern Ireland during 2015 and 2016.

It is worth emphasising that potential victims are not always foreign nationals and indeed the United Kingdom and Ireland feature amongst the most common countries of origin of potential victims.

The legislative framework

2015 saw the introduction of new legislation in Northern Ireland which has introduced significant reforms and reinforced both how victims are protected and supported as well as law enforcement’s response to perpetrators. The Human Trafficking and Exploitation (Criminal Justice and Support for Victims) Act (Northern Ireland) 2015 (“the 2015 Act”) was granted Royal Assent on 13 January 2015. This legislation has enhanced our capacity to tackle human trafficking and slavery or forced labour in Northern Ireland by:

- establishing new offences of human trafficking and slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour;
- increasing the maximum sentence for human trafficking and slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour to life imprisonment;
- introducing a minimum two year sentence for these offences (unless there are exceptional circumstances to warrant a lower sentence);
- making it easier to confiscate the assets of exploiters and to force them to pay reparation to victims;
- criminalising the purchase of sexual services;
- introducing a new offence of forced marriage;
- introducing slavery and trafficking prevention orders;
• placing a statutory requirement on the Department of Justice to provide assistance and support to adult potential victims who are referred to the NRM;

• creating a new statutory defence for victims who have been compelled to commit certain other offences;

• creating new protections for victims within the criminal justice system in respect of avoiding secondary victimisation in police interviews and ensuring access to special measures in court and;

• introducing independent child guardians for trafficked and separated children.

With the consent of the Northern Ireland Assembly, a number of provisions in the Westminster Modern Slavery Act 2015 relating to enforcement powers in relation to ships, the Independent Anti-slavery Commissioner, and transparency in supply chains also extend to Northern Ireland. Again, this strategy includes a number of actions to ensure the full implementation of these provisions.

Identifying and supporting victims

The NRM continues to be the United Kingdom’s framework for identifying victims of human trafficking and ensuring they receive the appropriate protection and support. First Responders are responsible for referring potential victims to the NRM (as noted, adults need to give their consent to a referral being made on their behalf). Once referred into the NRM cases are assessed by one of the United Kingdom’s Competent Authorities, whilst individuals are able to access a range of support services, including safe accommodation; one-to-one support; help with living / travel costs; help to access healthcare; sign-posting to immigration advice; sign-posting to independent legal advice and advice on compensation; help to access counselling or other therapeutic services; and interpreter / translation services.

The Department of Justice (DOJ) currently funds Migrant Help to provide this support to adult male potential victims of human trafficking and Women’s Aid to support adult female potential victims of human trafficking, in accordance with the statutory obligations placed on the Department by section 18 of the Act. Support and protection for child victims and potential is provided by the Health and Social Care Trusts.

The 2014 review of the NRM made a number of recommendations for reforms which are aimed at improving the decision-making process in respect of cases and enhancing the overall effectiveness of the NRM in terms of outcomes for victims. A number of pilot projects are currently ongoing in England. DOJ and its partners in Northern Ireland wish to be informed by the emerging lessons from these pilots and will need to work closely with counterparts in other jurisdictions to identify best practice and ensure that the NRM arrangements in Northern Ireland will effectively identify and support victims of trafficking and modern slavery. Supporting and protecting victims is a strategic priority and this strategy reflects the work that we plan to take forward in Northern Ireland in respect of implementing NRM reforms.

As a further reform of provision under the NRM, in March 2016 the former Minister of Justice announced the decision to extend the scope of the NRM in Northern Ireland to all victims of modern slavery, not just in those cases where there is an element of trafficking. This will ensure parity of treatment, support and protection to those who are vulnerable and exploited. The strategy reflects the ongoing work necessary to fully implement this important reform.

Progress through partnership

Partnership is one of the four strategic priorities under this strategy and it seeks to build on and develop the strong partnerships that are already in place between relevant Executive Departments, statutory agencies and non-governmental and civil society organisations.

Key progress has been made through effective partnerships during 2015/16. This includes:

- provision of awareness training to staff in statutory agencies, including training for new PSNI and Prison Officer recruits;
- development of an MoU between the United Kingdom’s Gangmasters Licensing Authority and the Irish Workplace Relations Commission, which will boost cross border protection for workers in Ireland;
- delivery of ongoing support for adult potential victims of trafficking by Migrant Help and Women’s Aid;
- delivery of extensive awareness raising activities, to schools, local church groups, private business and awareness information distributed at main public events;
- delivery of seminars to private sector representatives on the topic of labour exploitation and slavery;
- delivery of awareness raising material and engagement with sex workers and sex worker representatives, aimed at reducing risk and identifying victims within the sex industry.

Prosecutors Commitments

Overarching Commitment:
The Prosecuting Authorities in the UK will work closely together and with our law enforcement partners to disrupt networks, prosecute traffickers and safeguard victims’ rights within the Criminal Justice Process.

How will we do this?
• We will build strong cases to support these most serious offences;
• We will ensure that the rights and welfare of victims are at the heart of our approach to investigation and prosecution;
• We will continue to deliver training and development to prosecutors and law enforcement to improve our expertise; and
• We will work closely together to learn lessons, exchange good practice and share relevant information, data and contacts.

Building Strong Cases
We will continue to work closely with law enforcement and other partners to ensure that any cases in relation to these types of offences are prepared and prosecuted robustly.

We will:
- Provide appropriate advice and support to reporting agencies at all stages of the investigative process.
- Identify and utilise expert witnesses in relevant cases.
- Consider the use of overseas support and assistance, in particular through mutual legal assistance or joint investigative teams.
- Ensure that financial investigation and proceedings in relation to Proceeds of Crime legislation are pursued where appropriate.

Victims and Witnesses

We will continue to ensure that the welfare of victims, witnesses and potential victims of human trafficking are at the heart of our approach to investigating and prosecuting offences of human trafficking.

We will:

- Treat all victims and witnesses of human trafficking with respect, sensitivity and professionalism;
- Communicate with victims and witnesses clearly and effectively ensuring that information is provided at all stages of the case by the most appropriate means and is translated where required;
- Signpost victims and witnesses where appropriate to help them to access agencies who provide additional support.
- Recognise that victims and witnesses of human trafficking often face complex barriers to giving evidence in criminal cases and proactively explore whether special measures are required to assist those victims and witnesses to give their best evidence throughout the case;
- Endeavour to ensure that support and assistance are available to victims and witnesses who are living in other jurisdictions.
- Use feedback from victims, witnesses and any other relevant individuals or groups to inform changes and improvements to our services;

Code of Conduct

We will adhere to the relevant Code or Code of Conduct for Prosecutors and all other relevant prosecution guidance in our respective jurisdictions when making any decision in relation to the prosecution of Human Trafficking cases.

We will:

- Ensure that the law is properly applied and that the right person is prosecuted for the right crime.
- Be fair, independent and objective at all stages of the case.
- Not let any personal views about the ethnic or national origin, gender, disability, age, religion or belief, political views, sexual orientation, or gender identity of the suspect, victim or any witness influence decisions.
- Not be affected by undue or improper pressure from any source.
- Act in the interests of justice and not solely for the purpose of obtaining a conviction.
- Act in a manner which ensures any prosecution is dealt with efficiently and without undue delay.

Training

We will periodically review and update the provision of training for all staff who may be involved in the investigation and prosecution of Human Trafficking.

Training available on Human Trafficking will include the following information;
- A summary of the dynamics found in situations of human trafficking;
- The common indicators that an individual has been trafficked;
- The legislative framework relating to human trafficking and modern slavery;
- Any case law involving human trafficking applicable to the jurisdiction;
- Examples of the specific vulnerabilities of victims of human trafficking;
- Best practice in communicating with victims and witnesses of human trafficking both in and out of the Court setting.
- Any other lessons learned from cases prosecuted across the UK.

Non-Governmental Organisations

We recognise the important role that Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) have in working to eradicate human trafficking and in supporting victims of human trafficking. We commit to developing and maintaining effective means of engagement with NGOs.

The purpose of such engagement is;
- To ensure there is an understanding of the complex nature of human trafficking and the needs and experiences of victims;
- To enable NGOs to share their expertise to assist with the development of best practice, policy, guidelines and training;
- To provide NGOs with a fuller understanding of the Criminal Justice Process; and
- To facilitate the exchange of information.

Exchange of Information

We will continue to work closely on all aspects of human trafficking and will undertake to exchange information to learn lessons from each other and develop our experience to lead to an improved response across the UK in the prosecution of these cases.

We will:
- Meet on a regular basis to discuss and exchange experience.
- Exchange good practice on all aspects of cases of human trafficking, including case building, evidential issues, victim support and protection, use of experts and presentation of evidence including digital working.
- Exchange training materials and opportunities to attend training courses in each other’s jurisdictions.
- Share legal and policy guidance, particularly for new legislation.
- Share relevant case law involving human trafficking which may impact the way cases are prosecuted.
- Share data on cases of human trafficking
- Exchange useful contacts for obtaining assistance within the UK and across other jurisdictions
